

Leggin' It for Literacy

Saturday, October 8, 2011

Join us for the 11th Annual 5k run to benefit the Certified Literate Community Program.

Held annually in the fall, Leggin' It for Literacy is a 5K (5 kilometers, 3.1 miles) road race held in downtown LaGrange Georgia. The road race is a fun community event with approximately 200 runners where spectators can come out support the runners, play games, and win prizes.

Planned and organized by the Junior Woman's Club of LaGrange, the event has been held, rain or shine, since 2001. All net proceeds from the race go directly to the Troup County CLCP helping our organization promote a love of reading, lifelong learning, and programs for basic adult literacy.

In 2008, the road race was moved from a Saturday morning to a Saturday evening start time. So, now the road race has a new twist as runners navigate downtown LaGrange through lighted streets, LED-lit balloons, and spectators cheering along the way.

CLCP Mission

Chartered in 2002, Troup County Certified Literate Community Program (CLCP) promotes community-wide literacy and enhances the quality of literacy in accordance to the guidelines of the State of Georgia. The CLCP encourages a love of reading as a foundation for lifelong learning and supports those programs with similar goals. CLCP promotes literacy awareness and programs to assist students in need of basic literacy education.
